

Retail Baking Industry Foundation Hurricane Relief Fund

Purpose The purpose of the Retail Baking Industry Foundation (RBIF) Hurricane Relief Fund is to support retail bakers who suffered losses from Hurricanes Katrina and Rita rebuild and restock their businesses.

History Last summer the Gulf Coast region was devastated by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita. With hundreds of square miles still uninhabitable, the devastation has not been alleviated. The devastation hit close to home for the retail baking industry. Fifty three bakeries along the Gulf Coast were impacted by the storms. Many are struggling to rebound from total losses and, with no insurance to cover flood damage, recovery is difficult. RBIF sought partners from the industry and has been joined in its efforts by industry suppliers, local associations and bakers from across the country.

Eligibility All applicants must meet the following requirements:

- Been geographically located in the devastated areas of Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi or Texas;
- Supply documented evidence such as insurance claims of loss of equipment, supplies and/or stock and photographs;
- Have reopened or are planning to reopen in the same geographic area.

Fund Disbursement The funds collected will be used to help bakeries recover, replace equipment and supplies and reopen. Grants will range between $500 - $3,000. Due to limitations in available funds, not all requests for funding can be met during this grant period.

Applications may be submitted in any of the following ways:
